

CORPORATE RESPONSIBILITY POLICY

Precise Fire & Security Limited recognises that it has corporate responsibility obligations to its investors, clients, staff, and suppliers and also to the wider community. We believe that our corporate responsibility extends to encompass both environmental and social responsibility.

It is clear to us that every aspect of our business has an impact, either positive or negative and that it is our duty to maximise the positive and to minimise the negative. In order to do so we have defined which impacts we have direct control over and those over which we do not have control, but can still exercise some positive influence. Our main effort is focused on where we have direct control, and thus are able to have the greatest possible positive impact.

The business operates with strict financial controls in place; with well defined levels of financial authorisation together with regular and detailed financial reporting as a part of our internal financial control procedures. We are subject to both internal and external audit.

We have a well-defined set of Behavioural Standards, which are applicable to all relationships within the business. Respect for others and dignity at work are key elements of these standards. We have developed this further and now diversity and disability awareness training is standard across our major contracts. We will continue to extend this training until, with client agreement; it becomes standard across our entire portfolio of contracts.

Although the electronic security systems sector has a relatively low environmental impact, we have nevertheless taken successful steps to reduce the carbon footprint of the business.

We are placing greater emphasis than ever on ensuring that where we have direct control, our supplies are ethically sourced and we are using our influence on our suppliers to do the same. Our ultimate aim is to have a verifiable, 100% ethical, supply chain.

By keeping corporate responsibility high on our agenda, and by encouraging every employee to take our corporate responsibilities in account on a day-to-day basis, we will continue to be an exemplar of corporate responsibility and recognised as a good supplier, a good employer and a good neighbour.
